When divorcing, most people want an immediate and cost effective conclusion to this chapter of their lives while recognizing the importance of having a workable means of communication going forward, particularly when children are involved. As a mediator, I emphasize all three of these goals. I have been a practicing attorney for over 30 years. My experience has shown me that a negotiated resolution to a dispute is faster and more economical than a litigated solution, and also allows for creative solutions that can meet the needs of both parties. I have extensive experience and training in mediation, negotiation and litigation. My approach encompasses the entirety of the situation including future implications the parties many not have considered. I am attentive to the concerns brought up by both parties equally and will keep the process productive and on course towards workable solutions for all issues in dispute. I provide parties with communication skills and problem-solving methods so co-parenting and any future interactions between the parties can be approached productively, within boundaries and with mutual cooperation.

Divorce or separation from a partner is a time of enormous change and emotion. Mediation is a process that allows parties to find unique solutions, together, that satisfy the needs and interests of the parties and their children. Parties take control of their own decisions and develop communication and problem-solving skills that support better co-parenting. As an attorney/mediator for over 25 years, and a Certified Public Accountant, I know it is also important to help parties understand and discuss the issues and changes ahead; consider and address any complex financial or tax issues to be resolved; and to look for ways to add value with my services.

I help prepare parties for mediation by offering a 1/2 hour free orientation, set by appointment. I offer weekend and evening hours. Services include in office and on-line mediations, co-mediation, parenting coordination, collaborative and cooperative law, and traditional litigation/trial work. I am a co-founder of Confluence Missouri (a nonprofit mediation resource); a trainer for civil and family law mediation and parenting coordination; and possess an advanced, graduate of law (LL.M.) degree in Dispute Resolution.

Missouri CPA (1985); Saint Louis University-JD (1991-cum laude); University of Missouri-L.L.M. (Masters of Law) Dispute Resolution (2013); former Adjunct Professor; ABA Certificate of Merit in Child Advocacy(1999).

I have been practicing domestic law since 1979 and have been a mediator since 1991. I am a firm believer that people should be allowed to make their own choices regarding their lives and the lives of their children. The mediation process allows them to do so. Therefore, I am an enthusiastic advocate of the process and always use my best efforts to see that mediation succeeds.

Reduced Fee Program: None noted.
