10. In the space below, briefly describe your experience, qualifications, special areas of expertise, and any other reasons why you should be selected as a neutral.

I completed Mediation training at St. Louis University School of Law and presently see mediation clients for and of divorces and other family matters as well as clients in psychotherapy. I am Social Worker and so professionally neutral. I can not litigate on behalf of a client. My interests are in the long term settlement of your case to provide you with long lasting piece of mind and workable solutions. Couples develop skills with me to further their resolution and communication skills including building appropriate interaction skills, validation, and connection of specific skills with deepening understanding of the other person's perspective. As a mediator, I do not make deals. In the early stages, I assist clients to find common interests and common ground for discussion. After that, I can be more assisting by offering evaluative solutions and constructive problem solving.
